NO matter how low a car's axle may be, the Blackhawk Allcar will lift it. There are two lifting points, with the toe lift reaching down to 3½ inches from the ground if necessary. Here is a real talking point for motorists with low-slung cars. Just slide the jack under—engage ram or toe—give the rigid handle a few easy strokes, short or long—and up goes the car with unbelievable ease. To lower, just open release valve with handle tip, and down comes the car, smoothly and quickly—no pumping. The Allcar model is a popular seller at $12.90.

Advertising every month in The Saturday Evening Post is increasing the demand. See your jobber's salesman about these real profit makers, and write for catalog.
